

OSHER LIFELONG LEARNING INSTITUTE (OLLI)

MEDFORD CAMPUS COMMUNITY FORUM SERIES

FALL 2009

RCC-SOU Higher Education Center

101 S. Bartlett Street, Medford

No registration necessary - bring a guest!

www.sou.edu/olli

Date/Time	Room	Presenter(s)	Topic
Monday September 21, 2009 10:00 am to 12 noon	Presentation Hall (Room 132)	Harry Cook, Ph.D. Gerry Cavanaugh, Ph.D., J.D. Moderator: Chris Honore', Ph.D.	CRITICAL ANALYSIS OF CAPITALISM: PAST, PRESENT, FUTURE. The presenters will review the basics of capitalism over time and discuss whether or not change is necessary. Each presenter has a slightly different view of what the changes should or might be and how they might be introduced.
Monday October 19, 2009 10:00 am to 12 noon	Presentation Hall (Room 132)	John Bowling, Ph.D., Moderator of a six member panel consisting of three older and three younger adults	INTER-GENERATIONAL CONTACT: THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH? A WELLSPRING OF FRUSTRATION? The goal of this program is to bring diverse perspectives out in the open and help all to understand differing points of view and different communication styles between the generations. Scenarios depicting misunderstandings, attitudes, views, and styles will be presented to panel members for discussion.
Monday November 16, 2009 10:00 am to 12 noon	Presentation Hall (Room 132)	H. Bernard Hartman, Ph.D.	THE ORIGIN OF SPECIES. Dr. Hartman will trace the history of Charles Darwin's theory of evolution by means of natural selection and the scientific controversy that immediately followed publication of his Origin of Species . The 150 th anniversary of the publication is being celebrated around the world this month.